This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

PREFACE.

THIS BOOK contains two distinct Catalogues of the Library; the first, arranged Alphabetically by the names of the Authors or Books; the second, an Analytical Catalogue, in which the works are classified according to their subjects. Each is complete in itself. A Synopsis of the Analytical Catalogue will be found on page 133. A Supplementary list of books received since the completion of the Alphabetical Catalogue will be found on page 189,—most of which are included in the Analysis.

That this work is imperfect the compiler is well aware, but there are many extenuating circumstances. It is the first catalogue of the Library, and the whole labor of penmanship as well as arrangement devolved on him alone, though at the same time performing the regular duties of Librarian. The work was necessarily much hurried; and, saving the Catalogue of the Mercantile Library of St. Louis, he had no guide to follow. To this he is much indebted, and though he has diverged from the system of that admirable work in some cases where it has seemed advisable, yet to it he acknowledges his indebtedness for his general plan, and for a very excellent model.

Some books may be wrongly classified; it is difficult always to judge correctly of a work by a hasty glance at its contents;

for such errors the compiler asks a lenient consideration in view of the peculiar circumstances of his task, and he hopes the next Catalogue may be a manifest improvement.

If the book be inferior in style to those issued from Eastern presses, its place of publication is pleaded as its apology.

San Francisco, August 31, 1854.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE ASSOCIATION.

In the month of December, 1852, the first successful attempt was made to organize a "Mercantile Library Association" for the City of San Francisco. Several previous efforts, which had been made, from time to time, with a view of forming associations of a kindred character, had been rendered unavailing by a peculiar force of circumstances, resulting partly from the unsettled state of society, and the many discouraging reverses which had befallen our whole mercantile community, by reason of the frequent disastrous conflagrations, which had repeatedly laid our city in ashes, and thrown a gloomy pall over its brightest hopes of prosperity. But feeling the importance of such an institution, and having experienced the beneficial results from similar associations in most of our Atlantic cities, the young men of San Francisco were not to be defeated in their commendable exertions; but confident of the merits of their cause, and bold in their hopes of success, again renewed the attempt which has happily resulted in the permanent establishment of the present Institution.

For the purpose of taking the preliminary steps for an organization, a meeting was held at the City Hall, in the Chamber of the Board of Aldermen, on the evening of the twenty-second of December, 1852. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the meeting was numerously attended, showing that a deep interest was felt among all classes of the community, and affording the most flattering encouragement for the permanent success of the movement. The following abstract from a report of the proceedings of this preliminary meeting is copied from one of the papers of the day:

[DECEMBER 22, 1852.]

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

In accordance with a previous call, a large and enthusiastic meeting was convened at the Council Chamber, J. B. Crockett, Esq., was called to the Chair, and Charles H. Wakelee appointed Secretary.

The President, in a few brief and happy remarks, explained the objects of the meeting; also the importance of such an association to the mercantile community of San Francisco.

On motion, the following Committees were appointed:

On the Constitution and By-Laws—Messrs. E. E. Dunbar, W. D. Bickham, W. H. Stevens, Dr. H. Gibbons.

On Subscriptions and Donations—Messrs. R. B. Hampton, W. H. Talmage, C. J. Dempster, E. P. Flint, S. E. Woodworth.

On Address and Appeal to the Citizens—Messrs. J. B. Crockett, F. C. Ewer, F. A. Woodworth.

On the adjournment of the meeting $2,000 was promptly subscribed. We trust the merchants of this community will meet the members of the financial committee with a spirit of liberality in accordance with the importance of the subject.

WHEREAS, It is deemed important to establish in this city a Mercantile Library Association, and believing as we do that the necessity for such an institution is duly appreciated by the people, and especially by the Merchants of San Francisco, therefore, Resolved, 1st. That in the opinion of this meeting, it is not only expedient but entirely practicable to establish the proposed Library upon a substantial footing, and under such auspices as will render it not only the pride and ornament of the city, but also the instrument of incalculable good to the community.

2nd. That a committee of five be appointed by the meeting to prepare a Constitution and By-Laws for the proposed Association, and which shall be submitted to a meeting of the subscribers hereafter to be called.

3rd. That a committee of five be also appointed by the meeting, to solicit subscriptions, either of books or money, for the proposed Library; and it shall be the duty of said committee to report to the Chairman of this meeting, as soon as they shall have obtained a sufficient amount in their opinion to justify the permanent organization of the Association.

4th. That upon receiving said report, it shall be the duty of the Chairman to call a meeting of the subscribers, at such time and place as he may deem expedient, by a publication in the daily papers, and shall lay before said meeting a statement of the amount subscribed, together with such other information as he may consider conducive to the ends in view.

5th. That a committee of three be appointed by the meeting to prepare and publish an Address to the people, setting forth the advantages of the proposed Association, so as the more efficiently to direct public attention to the subject.

In pursuance of the duty devolving upon them, the Committee appointed for drafting an Address to the citizens of San Francisco, prepared the following appeal, which was duly presented to the public through the medium of the daily press:

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

To the People of San Francisco:—

At a meeting of citizens held at the Chamber of the Board of Aldermen, on Wednesday evening last, with a view to organize a Mercantile Library Association in this city, the undersigned were appointed a committee to prepare and publish an Address setting forth the advantages of the proposed Association, and its claims upon public favor. In the performance of this duty, we do not propose to enter at large upon the subject; but briefly to present a few of the prominent reasons why such an institution is not only needed here, but is in some measure indispensable to the people of San Francisco.

In this enlightened age, it would be altogether superfluous to enlarge upon the value of such institutions generally. Experience has attested their usefulness, wherever they have been established, and we hazard but little in the assertion that, next to the church and the school-house, nothing more clearly defines the degree of intelligence and refinement which a people have attained, than the degree of encouragement which is extended to such institutions as the one it is proposed to establish. They are, therefore, always most prosperous in those communities where the standard of intelligence is highest. Persons of cultivated minds and of liberal education are more apt than others to appreciate justly the value of an institution so peculiarly adapted to the wants of the public, and which diffuses knowledge in so agreeable a form, and at so cheap a rate. The result has proved that in those cities where the greatest amount of intelligence prevails, library associations have commended themselves in a peculiar manner to the affections and sympathies of the public. They have been sustained with an alacrity and zeal which proves them to be the cherished objects of popular regard. But if they are entitled to this peculiar favor in other and older cities, there are numerous reasons why they have far stronger claims upon the people of this city.

Our population is composed of persons, not only from the various States of the Union, but from many foreign countries, who have congregated here under very extraordinary circumstances. A large portion of them are young men just emerging into the active pursuits of life, and most of whom are upon a new theatre, far removed from home influences, and exposed to strong temptations to vice. It is well known that we have but few places of innocent amusement, while there is no lack of those of an opposite character. We indulge the confident belief that a well conducted Mercantile Library Association would do much to counteract the pernicious influence of prevalent vices. It would cultivate a taste for literature, by furnishing books suited to every capacity. It would stimulate a generous rivalry in mental culture, by rendering it the fashion to read and converse on literary topics. It would in some degree supply the place of those gentle home influences which gather around the domestic hearth and are so potent for good. The reading room would become a place of the most agreeable re-unions, and would make us better acquainted with each other, and thus most efficiently promote a friendly, social intercourse. In this way it would tend to promote harmony, strengthen virtuous resolutions, disseminate knowledge, discourage vice, cultivate a taste for literature, and in all respects elevate the standard of public morals. These are surely sufficient reasons why every good citizen should embark with zeal in the enterprise.

But in addition to these, it should not be forgotten that San Francisco is already the emporium of the Pacific coast, that we are now but laying the foundation of a great city, which in a few years is destined to rival in wealth and population the proudest cities on the continent. Whilst we are erecting splendid edifices, filling spacious warehouses, sending ships into foreign ports, and astonishing the whole civilized world with the untold wealth of our mountains and valleys, let us not forget those treasures of the mind, those amenities and accomplishments, which constitute the charm of social life, and without which, wealth ceases to be the source of rational enjoyment. Let us make our infant city as distinguished for literature and science as it already is for its commerce and wealth. Those to whom California has yielded its gold with a lavish hand, cannot better evince their gratitude than by devoting a portion of it to such noble purposes as these.

In conclusion, we beg to remind the public that a committee was appointed on Wednesday evening to receive subscriptions, and we trust that the appeal now made to the people, and especially to the merchants of this city, (who are distinguished for liberality and public spirit,) will be responded to in such a manner as to warrant the immediate organization of the Association upon a permanent footing.

J. B. CROCKETT,
FRED'K A. WOODWORTH,
F. C. EWER.

The next meeting in furtherance of the object, was held, pursuant to adjournment, in the U. S. District Court Room, on the evening of the ninth of January following, a report of the proceedings of which is herewith appended:

[JANUARY 10, 1853.]

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

The Association met, pursuant to adjournment, last night, at the United States District Court Room. A number of gentlemen were present, many having understood that the meeting was to take place at the California Exchange; many others did not attend, whose presence was expected. They, however, went to work with a spirit and earnestness that proved conclusively that their hearts were in the enterprise, which is one that must be highly beneficial to the community, and reflects the highest honor on the promoters of it.

The meeting was called to order, and Col. Crockett was unanimously voted into the Chair. He stated that this meeting was called for the purpose of forming a Mercantile Library Association, the former one being preliminary, for the purpose of obtaining subscriptions for carrying out the enterprise. He stated that the committee to whom had been entrusted the duty of raising these subscriptions, had reported that they had on their list between four and five thousand dollars; and it gave every reason to believe that a much larger amount could be raised without much trouble.

A Secretary was then appointed, and the choice fell on Mr. Wakelee, who served in that capacity at the previous meeting. The report of the committee was then read, and went to prove that the greatest hopes of its success could reasonably be expected. The report was accepted. The Constitution and By-Laws were then read by one of the committee nominated to draw them up. The instrument is too long for admission here. Suffice to say that it is based on the same grounds as other articles of the same nature in the Atlantic States. It was moved that an amendment to the Constitution be adopted, making the shares to consist of 2000 at $25 each, in place of 1000 at $50. The Constitution thus amended was unanimously adopted. The chairman of the committee for drawing up the Constitution, in reply to questions, stated that the committee had availed themselves of all the information they could obtain of the constitutions and by-laws of other similar institutions in the Eastern and Western cities of the Union. Moved and seconded that the final adoption of the Constitution and By-Laws be referred to a committee of the whole. Adopted. By unanimous consent, it was agreed that the instrument be read article by article, and if no exception was taken to them as they were read, they should be considered as adopted.

The several articles of the Constitution were then carefully read and adopted as they were, or adopted after amendments. Col. Crockett offered a proviso to the second article, admitting twenty meritorious young men to the benefits of the institution, from time to time, free of cost; adopted. Each share was admitted to a vote in the future regulations of the institution; this was offered by Mr. Woodworth, as an amendment to the former reading, which mentioned each shareholder as being entitled to one vote. After going through the articles of the Constitution, as above stated, it was moved and seconded that the Constitution as amended and the By-Laws as they were presented, be adopted as a whole; carried in committee of the whole. It was then moved and seconded, that the election of officers of this institution take place on the 25th of this month, at 7 o'clock, P. M., in the Court Room of the U. S. District Court; adopted. The Constitution as amended was then ordered to be referred back to the committee which drafted it, to be reported at the next meeting. A committee of seven was selected to nominate officers for the institution, and report at the next meeting: Messrs. Wadsworth, Turner, F. Woodworth, Crockett, Simpton, Bickham, Dempster and Cutter, appointed. A committee of four additional was nominated to collect subscriptions for the institution; adopted. The Association then adjourned till next Monday evening, at the U. S. District Court Room.

Another meeting was held on the evening of January 17th, at which the By-Laws and Regulations for the government of the Association were read and adopted, and the nominating committee reported the names of the several officers, which report was laid upon the table, to be taken up for action at an adjourned meeting to be held on the evening of the 25th of January, at which meeting, as will be seen by the following account of the proceedings, the final organization was effected, by the adoption of the Certificate of Corporation dated January 24th, and the officers, whose names will be found below, were unanimously elected:

[JANUARY 25, 1853.]

MERCANTILE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.

This Association met, pursuant to adjournment, at the United States District Court Room last night. Many gentlemen were present, and great interest as to the advancement and success of the undertaking was manifested. The balloting for officers resulted as follows, the whole number of votes being 80:

President—David S. Turner.

Vice President—J. P. Haven.

Recording Secretary—W. H. Stevens.

Corresponding Secretary—Dr. H. Gibbons.

Treasurer—C. E. Bowers, Jr.

Directors—E. E. Dunbar, J. B. Crockett, D. H. Haskell, E. P. Flint.

The above named gentlemen were unanimously elected. David S. Turner, the President, then took the chair and delivered a feeling and able address, which had a powerful effect on the minds of those present, offering valuable suggestions for their consideration. A vote of thanks was then offered to Colonel Crockett, who had so ably presided as chairman. He made an excellent series of remarks as to what the Society had done and much of what they ought to do.

The following gentlemen were named as a committee to make the collections:

S. E. Woodworth, Charles E. Bowers, Jr., Robert B. Hampton, F. A. Woodworth, C. J. Dempster, H. A. Wadsworth, W. H. Talmage, A. G. Randall, Charles Wakelee, J. H. Cutter, Cyrus W. Jones, F. S. Hawley.

These gentlemen were elected as a Standing Committee for the purpose above mentioned. The meeting then adjourned, till called together by the President

Immediate steps were taken to secure suitable rooms for the uses of the Association, and the proper apartments having been leased for that purpose in the building known as the "California Exchange," the Directors proceeded without delay to have them properly fitted and furnished for the purpose. A valuable collection of books belonging to General Hitchcock, consisting of fifteen hundred volumes of standard literature, had been purchased by the Directors as a nucleus for a Library, the Reading-Room was supplied with files of the various newspapers, periodicals and magazines from the Atlantic

States and from Europe, and with these resources and under these auspices the institution commenced its career of usefulness on the first day of March, 1854.

Among the early benefactors of the Institution, may be mentioned the name of D. H. Haskell, and more recently that of Hon. C. K. Garrison, present Mayor of San Francisco. Valuable donations have been made by the Chamber of Commerce, Marvin & Hitchcock, Burnham & Brothers, Gould, Kendall & Lincoln, Wm. Wood, Dewitt & Harrison, H. C. Clarke, Mr. Drake, Mr. Bixby, Wm. H. Stevens, H. C. Beals, Capt. Cressy, of the "Flying Cloud," Dr. Coit, Judge Sutherland, Wm. R. Wadsworth, Capt. Wm. McMichael, M. M. Noah, F. W. Macondray, T. C. Downer, C. C. Lewis, L. Phillips, Gen. McDougal, Mr. Dempster, Mr. Bartlett of the "Evening News," Editors of the "Alta California," Hon. Senator Gwin, Mr. La Reintree, and others, which, added to the purchase of Gen. Hitchcock's private library, make the whole number of volumes on the shelves of the Institution over 3,000, besides many hundreds of pamphlets and unbound periodicals, and very valuable files of newspapers. The proportion of these volumes is about as follows: Periodicals, 473; History, 213; Biography, 160; Science and Philosophy, 225; Belles-Lettres and Ancient Literature, 135; Romance, 237; Travels, 145; Poetry and Drama, 144; Theology, 204; Law, Medicine and Politics, 130; Miscellaneous, 445; besides a valuable collection of works of general Reference, including Maps, Charts, Encyclopædias, Cyclopædias and Dictionaries.

The utmost efforts have been made to collect and complete, as far as possible, back files of the City papers. Mr. Bartlett of the "Evening News," has presented a very perfect file of the "S. F. Journal of Commerce," from Feb. 19 to July 14, 1850, of which there is probably no other copy in existence. This, together with six volumes of the "Herald," and five of the "Alta," extending back to May 6, 1851, has been strongly bound and placed upon the shelves. Of the "Alta," there are only six numbers missing, and of the "Herald," since July 1, 1851, there are only eleven wanting. It was felt that there was an urgent need of acting in this matter at once. It was known that many had in their possession scattered papers, broken files, useless in themselves, but which, collected and carefully bound, would be of incalculable advantage for future reference, and as historical data. Here they are safe, and always open to public inspection or reference; and once here, they are secure against all danger of destruction unless by some overwhelming calamity.

But a little more than a year has elapsed, and the Institution now finds itself firmly established on a permanent basis, with a large and valuable library, a reading-room abundantly supplied with all the current literature of the day, and a constantly increasing list of members, representing all classes of the community. Its success has been unexampled in the history of any association of a like character, and it needs but the continued fostering care of our liberal minded citizens to place it, in a short time, in the front rank of the literary institutions of the age—an honor to themselves, and an honor to the city of their adoption.
